Quick tips to scale hiring with video interviews

Take the guesswork out of your hiring process with fully integrated screening and assessments

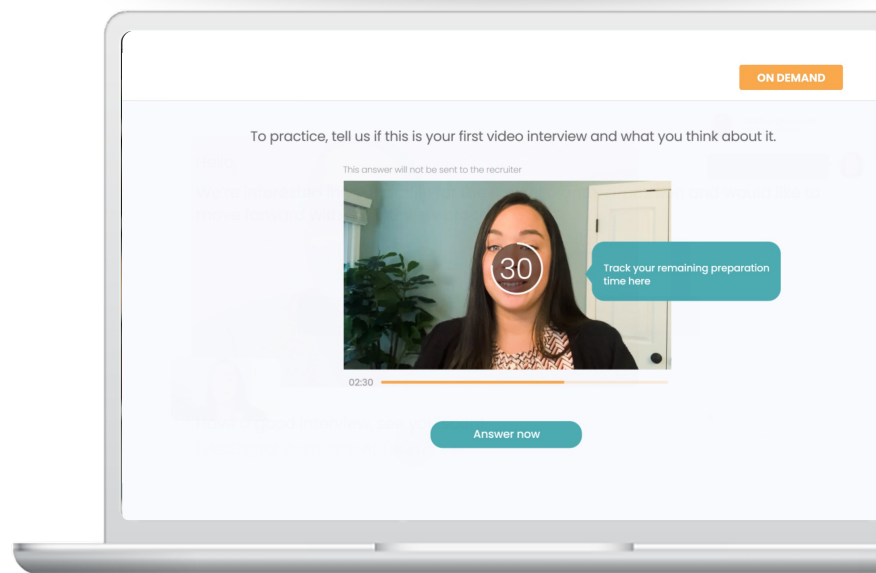

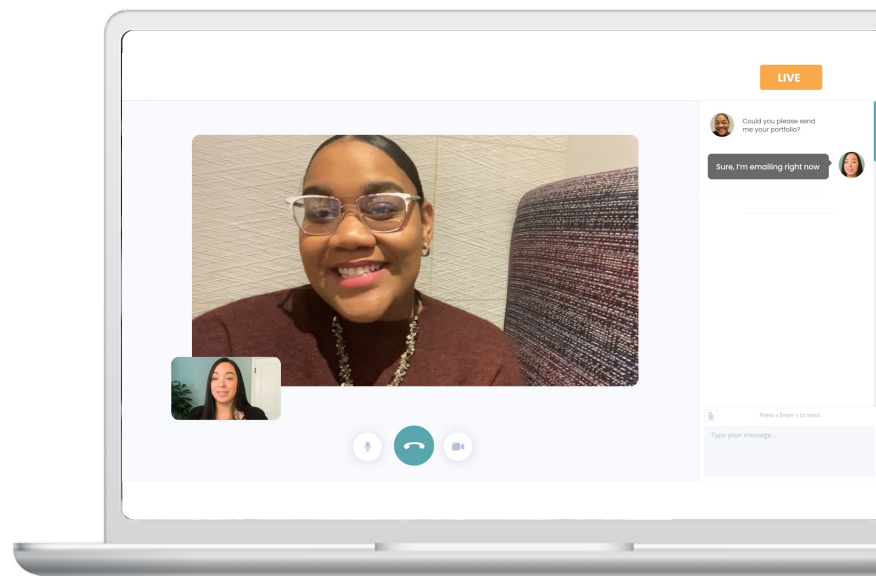

Are your recruiters struggling with high volumes of applications, a time-consuming screening process, and limited resources to manage it all?

Hire qualified candidates at scale with AI-powered video interview software.

iCIMS' Video Interviews solution helps recruiters hire best-fit candidates quickly and at scale.

Recruiters can increase productivity by allowing candidates to self-schedule live interviews or even record an on-demand video interview that recruiters view at their own convenience.

Surface top talent with AI-powered recommendations that anonymize and assess candidate interviews. Automatic analysis of criteria you set recommends best-fit candidates so you never miss out on top talent.

iCIMS Video Interviews can help you:

Create an equitable experience.

Standardized interview questions can help remove bias from the review process and provide an equitable experience for all candidates.

Pre-screening questions and AI working behind the scenes can help you uncover candidates that recruiters may have otherwise overlooked.

Manage your recruiting process from end to end.

Video Interviews natively integrate with the iCIMS Talent Cloud to give you more control and scalability.

Did you know?

Recruiters spend, on average, 4.8 hours a week scheduling interviews. iCIMS Video Interviews can help cut this time through calendar-sync with Google and Outlook. Candidates can self-schedule interviews and get automated reminders to help reduce no-shows and re-scheduling.

Simplify. Accelerate. Scale.
